Firstly I must apologise about the confusion surrounding yesterday and the industrial action clashing with school captain speeches. The industrial action is called by the Teachers Federation; no consultation is made with schools about timeframes. The speeches went ahead and I must say were very impressive and can only have made the decision more difficult for the voters. Due to so many kids not attending school yesterday I took the potential school captains for a walk around their electorate today to visit all the classes so all voters had a chance to put faces to names, then voting took place.

Thank you to all those that returned the School Satisfaction surveys these will be used to contribute to the 2013 Annual School Report.

The Year 6 dinner last Monday night was a great fun filled evening to celebrate the end of these kids primary school education. The students may have to give their parents some dancing lessons though. Many thanks to everyone that helped organise the event, especially Rowena and Jess who also helped out with the drinks.

Our year 6 students had their High School Orientation today, this experience will help prepare them as to what to expect next year all the more clearer.

The teaching staff continued their training today with Focus On Reading gearing up for next year and the new English Syllabus.

Next Monday, 9 December will see our final whole school Scripture assembly from 2:20pm till 3:15pm in the school hall. Next week also sees some excursions happening with Fraser Island from Tuesday, 10 to Friday, 13 December and Midginbil Hill from Wednesday, 11 to Friday, 13 December. There will be some great experiences for all involved.

Monday, 16 December looks like a big day for everyone. The day begins with the whole school award presentation assembly over in the High School Hall.

During the afternoon on the 16 December we will see our County Fair operating beginning at 2:20pm till 3:15pm.

Tuesday, 17 December at 11:30am we’ll be holding our volunteer’s lunch as a special and heart felt thank you for all their efforts.

On Wednesday, 18 December (if all goes to plan) after school at about 4pm there will be a parent’s information meeting with regard to the fine tuning of some aspects of our welfare plan for those that can’t attend there will be a detailed description contained within the last newsletter. This is also the last day of term for students. The staff will continue working for two more days planning and preparing for a successful and smooth start to the 2014 school year.

You are more than welcome to join us for any of the above happenings ... well maybe not Fraser Island!!!

Thanks Drew
